

W. B. COCKRAN DIES SUDDENLY OF APOPLEXY

Representative From New York
Conceded to Have Been Most Eloquent Orator

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Declared to Those About Him He
"Never Felt Better;" Opposed Farm Credits

Washington, Mar. 1.—Death today killed the voice of W. Bourke Cockran, conceded to have been one of the most eloquent orators who ever spoke from the floor of congress.

The famous speaker, a Democratic representative from New York, who had matched his powers with many of the greatest of his time, died at 7:10 o'clock this morning from a stroke of apoplexy. Last night he delivered a vigorous denunciation on the farm credits legislation pending in the house and later he celebrated his 69th anniversary with an old-fashioned birthday party.

Apparently in the best of health, Mr. Cockran entered into the spirit of the occasion with all his heart. He repeatedly remarked to those about him, that he "never felt better."

After his guests had departed and while he was chatting with Mrs. Cockran, he was stricken with a headache and soon lapsed into unconsciousness. Last rites of the Catholic church were administered shortly before he died.

With his massive head covered with snow white hair, Mr. Cockran was a picturesque figure and with his powers of argument and wonderful vocabulary, he was well-nigh invincible in debate.

Members were reluctant to interrupt him when he began to speak, because, as they explained, they preferred to listen. Representative Mondell, Wyoming, the Republican leader, said today he was the greatest orator of his time, while Representative Ghairett, Tennessee, the Democratic leader, declared him to have been one of the greatest of all times.

Native of Ireland.

A native of Ireland, educated in France and the United States, and sojourner in the latter country, Mr. Cockran was one of the prominent figures in American public life. He was an orator of the old school, endowed with a remarkable voice and with a delivery and diction that long ago won him a place among the most eloquent orators of the country.

In politics Mr. Cockran was a wheel horse of Tammany Hall, whose battles he fought in New York and elsewhere on many occasions. At the last Democratic national convention at San Francisco he made the speech nominating Governor Alfred E. Smith for the presidency, an oratorical effort which carried the convention into a prolonged demonstration, favoring of old-time "revival meeting" politics. He also addressed the convention in favor of a plank endorsing the manufacture of light wines and beer.

In recent years he had devoted much attention to the fight for Irish freedom, appearing before congressional committees and on the public platform prior to organization of the Free State to plead for American recognition of the Irish republic. On these occasions his eloquence was at its best as he recounted from personal observation the privations of the poor class in Ireland from which he sprung.

Broke With Bryan.

Mr. Cockran first was elected to the house of representatives for a term in 1887. He came back in 1891 for two more terms, but in 1894 he declined to follow the free silver banner of William Jennings Bryan, broke with his national party organization and left congress. He returned to the party in 1900, when he campaigned for Bryan, and in 1904 he was again elected to the house. This time he remained for five years, at the end of which time he declined to become a candidate for re-election. In 1920, however, he again yielded to the lure of the parliamentary give and take and he so well, and was again elected to a seat in the house. He was re-elected last November.

He had been especially active during the present session, and had planned a trip to Europe this summer. Until a few days ago he apparently had been in perfect health.

Although he liked to take part in debate, and had raised his voice in many recent discussions on the house floor, Mr. Cockran was not a weaker after committee honors. His only committee assignment in the present congress was as a member of the foreign affairs committee, but in that capacity he found an opportunity to study and influence action on most of the questions of foreign policy with which the house has had to deal.

DOG'S BARK LEADS TO FATALITY INJURED MAN

Olean, Mar. 1.—Barking of a dog led to the finding of Lee W. Lang, a trainman, of this city, lying fatally injured beside the Pennsylvania railroad tracks near Liberty, Pa. today, according to word received here by the trainmaster. The supposed "fatal duty" slipped from the dog's tongue, falling to the tracks, where the wheels passed over his body.

Some hours later a farmer was alerted by his dog which was running from the farm house to the tracks, barking as he ran. Lang, who was on the way to Port Allegany, Pa., was found lying on the tracks.

CONSOLIDATION OF RAILWAY SYSTEMS

Male Holden Would Combine All Roads West of Chicago Into Four Big Companies

Washington, Mar. 1.—A plan for consolidation of all the railroads west of Chicago into four great systems, each operating over 30,000 miles of lines, was laid before the Interstate Commerce commission today by Male Holden, president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy.

The object of the vast consolidation he proposed, would go far beyond present government consolidation plans, would be the creation of four such systems as would each reach from Chicago to the Pacific coast, and from the Gulf to the Canadian border.

The Burlington, Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Kansas City Southern, Chicago Great Western, Louisiana and Navigation company, Trinity and Brazos Valley and subsidiary corporations would be in one group.

A second group would be made up of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe, Chicago and North Western, Duluth, Mesquite and Northern, Duluth and Iron Range, Missouri and North Arkansas, Minneapolis, St. Paul and St. Louis, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, St. Louis Southwestern, Duluth, Winnipeg and Pacific, Western Pacific and a series of smaller lines.

In the third group would be placed the Southern Pacific, Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Vicksburg, Shreveport and Pacific, Missouri, Kansas and Texas, Toledo, Peoria and Western and other short-line roads.

In the fourth group, Mr. Holden proposed to place the Union Pacific, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, St. Louis-San Francisco, Chicago and Alton, Texas and Pacific, and the International and Great Northern.

FIND CHARGES OF WATSON UNFOUNDED

Committee Reports Unanimously
American Soldiers Not Executed
in France Without Trial

Washington, Mar. 1.—The sensational chapter of senate history revolving around a charge by the late Senator Charles McNamara, of Colorado, that American soldiers were executed without trial in France, was closed today when the committee appointed to investigate the charge reported unanimously that it had found the charge unfounded.

The committee's finding were embodied in one of the briefest reports ever submitted by an investigating body. It was scarcely a dozen lines in length. It stated merely that the committee had inquired into the allegations of Senator McNamara and determined that they were "not sustained by the testimony."

All of the committee members fixed their signatures to the report. They are Senators Brandegee, Connecticut; Willis, Ohio, and Ernst, Kentucky, Republicans; and Overman, North Carolina, and Shields, Tennessee, Democrats.

Senator McNamara's charges were made in a series of denunciations in November, 1921, during which he submitted photographs which he said portrayed gallows on which American soldiers had been hanged without legal process. He also exhibited letters he said he had received from former service men declaring that illegal hangings and shootings had taken place while the army was in France.

NEW ZEALAND REPORTS HEARING R. P. I. RADIO

Troy, Mar. 1.—Words and music broadcasted by radio telephone from the Keweenaw Polytechnic Institute station here have been heard distinctly by New Zealand, according to a cablegram from Invercargill, N. Z., reaching the station today. This is regarded here as a new record for distance, the air line mileage to Invercargill being 10,000 miles.

The station has broadcast programs daily from 5 to 7 o'clock in the morning during the past week as a trans-Pacific test. New Zealand stations reported hearing the music on the first day and on three subsequent days.

BANDITS ROB TWO JEWELERS OF $65,000 IN VALUABLES

New York, Mar. 1.—Three armed bandits tonight held up and bound two jewelers in a delivery store on the Lower East Side, and escaped with $65,000 in gems.

The trio entered the store of Max Stone, and after binding and gagging him, tied his wife, who was $24,000 in jewels.

As they were leaving, Charles Landau, a Nathan Street jeweler entered the store. He, too, was held up and $10,000 in jewel goods were taken from him.

The jewelers were left behind in the store while the bandits fled in an automobile, snatching their loot from the building.

LOST MINERS STRIKE.

Scranton, Pa., Mar. 1.—A protest march of 2,000 miners employed at the Edley Creek and Grassy Island collieries of the Bradford Coal company at Scranton, near here, went on strike today because of failure of the company to pay their wages due. Union officers are trying to adjust the difficulty.

HINTS WAR OUTBREAK

Washington Embassy Declares High
Tension in Occupied Zone
May Cause Explosion

CONTINUE POLICY

Unable to Do More Than Maintain
Passive Resistance Policy of Past Week

(By the Associated Press.)

Berlin, Mar. 1.—Nikolaus von Hindenburg is quoted by the "Tages Zeitung" as having said at a meeting of the Hanover Agricultural League:

"We will never forget that we are all Germans and must do our duty and that if necessary we will fight even until the last flag is torn to pieces and the last sword blade shattered. It is better to perish in honor than to live in disgrace."

Germany has sent to the larger foreign powers who are not participating in the Ruhr occupation, notes calling attention to the seriousness of the situation of the Ruhr. It is declared that this step is considered necessary "in order to give the world a composite picture of French procedure."

A Cologne dispatch to the Vossische Zeitung reports that the Ehrenbreitstein railroad station has been occupied by colored troops, thus severing the last remaining train connection between Cologne and Ehrenbreitstein. The funds in the railway station were seized at the same time, while the railroad men, who are on a protest strike, were being paid.

Two Important Decisions.

Dusseldorf, Mar. 1.—Two decisions having an important bearing on the administration of the Rhineland and the Ruhr by the army of occupation are announced at French headquarters here. The first step is the final step in giving necessary powers to the French and Belgian commanders to administer the German railroads, and the second provides for the collection of an internal revenue tax on tobacco and alcoholic beverages.

In the decree promulgating these decisions, the interallied high commission's rights to operate the railroads along the left bank of the Rhine is turned over formally to the army authorities, partly as a precautionary measure to guarantee the Cologne bridgehead area occupied by the British is not included in this order.

The decree, which is effective immediately, sets forth that the taking over of the railroads is deemed necessary in the public interest, in view of the strikes by the German railroad employees and the unsettled conditions generally, and also to assure the residents food and other necessities.

Full authority is given to the French and Belgians to discharge German railroad men and engage all the employees necessary; most of these will be brought from France and Belgium and the railroads will be operated under General Fayot, as chief of transportation with French and Belgian technical advisors.

U. S. POSITION ON OCCUPATION BILLS

Paris Conference Aims to Settle
Problems Caused by A. of O.
Coblenz Costs

(By the Associated Press.)

Paris, Mar. 1.—The position of the American government regarding its claim for reimbursement for maintenance of the army of occupation on the Rhine was explained by Eliot Wadsworth, assistant secretary of the treasury, at his first conference with French representatives of France, Great Britain and Italy, here today.

The meeting was held at the foreign office, Mr. Wadsworth representing the United States and the other powers the allied governments.

The discussion followed a free exchange of views which lasted three hours and largely in a conversational form, involving discussion of principle rather than figures.

The American views had already been fully set forth in various notes to the allied governments prior to November 1, 1921, when the allied ambassadors council, finding it difficult to conduct the four-cornered correspondence, suggested the present conference.

It was decided by the delegates today to defer further consideration until next Monday in order to afford time to think over matters and consult with their own governments. It was also decided to continue secret communications to the public.

APPROVES APPROPRIATIONS TO MODERNIZE WARSHIPS

Washington, Mar. 1.—Appropriations aggregating $20,950,000 for modernization of battleships and reconstruction of cruisers as the result of the naval scrapping program under the Washington arms conference treaty were approved today by the senate. The house previously had approved the items.

Included in the naval appropriations contained in the deficiency bill is $5,500,000 for making changes in 12 battleships so as to increase the range of their guns.

The legislation also increases the limit of cost of the new battleships authorized and authorized $100,000,000 for further payment of costs in the scrapping program.

The Day In Washington

Representative W. Bourke Cockran, Democrat, New York, died suddenly. The news came from the house today to the house for adjustment of differences.

Brigadier General Frank T. Hines took office as Veterans' bureau director, succeeding Charles R. Forbes, resigned.

The senate rejected the nomination of Walter L. Cohen, Negro Republican leader of Louisiana, to be customs controller at New Orleans.

Senate approval was given a $400,000 appropriation for continuing activities of the federal coal commission. The house has not yet agreed to the provision.

Chairman La Follette of the senate investigating committee obtained permission to complete its report after adjournment of congress.

The house passed, 305 to 26, the composite rural credits bill and conference immediately began adjustment of differences between the senate and house drafts.

The German embassy declared its government would be unable to guarantee peace and order in the Ruhr if the population is provoked to the point of desperation.

A senate investigation committee reported unanimously that charges of the late Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, that American soldiers were executed in France without trial were unfounded.

Male Holden, president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, laid before the Interstate Commerce commission a plan for consolidation of all the railroads west of Chicago into four systems.

Dr. Axel Leonard Astrom, minister of Finland, arranged to begin preliminary conversations with Secretary Mellon on refunding of the Finnish debt of $8,281,926 and accrued interest of $1,150,000.

The senate adopted the resolution already passed by the house requesting the President to negotiate agreements with foreign nations looking toward restricting the production of habit forming drugs.

Enactment of legislation permitting restricted immigration of otherwise inadmissible aliens into Hawaii to relieve the labor shortage was recommended by the senate immigration committee, which declared American control of the islands was endangered by the Japanese.

President Harding, in a letter, told Representative Rogers, Republican, Massachusetts, he did not favor an anthracite embargo to relieve the fuel situation in New England and felt that further action to facilitate shipments rested wholly with the Interstate Commerce commission.

ONE BIG UNION

Hopes to Accomplish Consolidation of 16 Rail Organizations Under Single Federation

Chicago, Mar. 1.—William Z. Foster, successor to "Big Bill" Haywood as the foremost radical in the country, has launched what he declares to be a "campaign unique in the history of labor."

It is directed against Samuel Gompers, the "Big Five" railroad brotherhood heads and other "reactionary" leaders, as Foster terms them.

It aims to accomplish among other things:

- 1.—Consolidation of all the 16 standard railroad unions into one big union.
- 2.—Formation of a labor party in the United States.

Foster's campaign is launched on the eve of his going on trial with 22 other alleged "Reds" on the charge of violating the Michigan syndicalist law. It is projected at a time when industrial peace never seemed brighter, according to union leaders and employers.

Foster in an interview today, revealed that he is instituting this month a national referendum in the whole trade union movement on the subject of a labor party. Fully 30,000 local unions will be circulated in the campaign.

"Our unions must be remodeled," Foster said. "The reactionary leaders must be swept away, the workers given new hope and a general renovation of the labor movement brought about."

Foster, who was a leader in the last big steel strike, declares the striking railroad shopmen were "double-crossed" by other railroad union leaders and forced to go it alone. He is pointing this out through the Trade Union Educational League, of which he is the head, as a striking example of "bankrupt labor leadership."

Also, he is now taking a national referendum among the 13,000 local unions of the 16 standard railroad organizations on the proposition of amalgamation.

AWAITS EX-KAISER

Greece Using Wilhelm's Summer
Home on Island of Corfu for Armenian War Orphans

New York, Mar. 1.—Reports from Berlin that former Emperor Wilhelm and his wife, the Princess Hermine, were contemplating a move from Doorn to Wilhelm's former summer palace, Castle Achilleon, on the island of Corfu, Greece, today led Charles W. Vickrey, general secretary of the Near East relief to observe that they have a big surprise in store for them.

For Castle Achilleon, Mr. Vickrey said, now houses 1,000 Armenian orphans brought from Asia Minor by the relief organization and quarters in the palace with the permission of the Greek government.

"The palace was requisitioned by the Greek government during the war," Mr. Vickrey said. "It has been turned over to Near East relief along with many other buildings to help shelter the hundreds of thousands of refugees now homeless in Greece. I do not think the Greek authorities have any intention of returning it to the former Kaiser or his family."

ARMY TRANSFORMS HEAD HUNTERS TO CITIZENS

Washington, Mar. 1.—Army camps in the Philippines are turning back into the non-Christian communities men trained for the ways of civilization and democracy along a common perfect peace and order among these former head hunters," according to a letter from Governor General Wood, transmitted to the war department by Major General Reed, commanding the island troops.

The native ex-soldiers, General Wood said, were becoming municipal districts, adding:

"I find them to have been trained by the army as blacksmiths, plumbers, telephone operators, stenographers, shoemakers, bakers, carpenters, painters, concrete masons, saddlers, etc., which of itself is sufficient showing of what the army is quietly doing toward practical progress in the islands."

SHIP 130 BALS OF HAY TO TOWN OF THREE HORSES

New York, Mar. 1.—The most valuable load of hay ever loaded into the New York Central freight yards arrived today under guard of federal prohibition agents, who stated that local officials were unable to figure out why 130 bales should be consigned to a village having only one horse and three cows.

Some of the bales examined produced evidence of champagne and when all have been opened, officials said, the net freight was expected to total 1,000 cases.

Other agents are waiting at Hastings-on-Hudson, yesterday, when local officials were unable to figure out why 130 bales should be consigned to a village having only one horse and three cows.

CONCERTED DRIVE AGAINST FRAUDS

Organization to Give Information on Speculative Matters to Protect Funds

Ithaca, Mar. 1.—Claiming that farmers of the state as well as city residents are being defrauded every year of thousands of dollars by investment in worthless securities, Knox Lee, president of the New York State Farm Bureau federation, comprising over 100,000 members, announced today that his organization has allied itself with other interests in the state and plans a concerted drive against what he terms one of the greatest evils in the country.

Mr. Lee declared that while newspapers and other agencies have waged energetic campaigns against bogus stock salesmen for many years and in many cases have succeeded in eliminating the practice in their territories, a complete campaign covering the state has never been carried on.

A number of conferences between representatives of organizations opposed to the sale of stock which is of doubtful value have been attended recently by Mr. Lee and ways and means of carrying on a campaign are now being worked out. He asserts that the state chamber of commerce, better business bureau, the state federation of labor and the state bankers' association have agreed to participate in the campaign.

It is planned to soon establish a bureau from which information can be secured about the multitude of investment offerings made to men and women who have been solicited by salesmen. If a certain kind of security is found worthless, or at best, extremely speculative, prospective investors will be able to learn that fact from the bureau, Mr. Lee said.

SHOTS SISTER BECAUSE OF WAYWARD ACTIONS

Ithaca, Mar. 1.—Because he complained, his 15-year-old sister, Mary, was wayward and that her actions had driven his mother to distraction, Gabriel Rocko, 18, accused the girl on the street here last night and fired two bullets into her body. The girl was removed to a hospital where, it was said today, her condition was critical. After the shooting young Rocko calmly surrendered to the police. He will be arraigned late today on an assault charge, pending the outcome of his sister's condition.

LEAPS FROM SPEEDING TRAIN.

Syracuse, Mar. 1.—A man whose name was not ascertained leaped from the eastbound Empire State express as it was approaching Jordan this afternoon. The train was speeding 60 miles an hour at the time. The man landed in a snow bank, picked himself up, remarked that "the K K K K K K was after me," and disappeared. Passengers stated that the man had been acting strangely and that he boarded the train at Rochester. To some he stated a hooded band had terrorized him with a hot iron.

MARTELLIERE PAID MORTGAGE INTEREST

District Attorney Seeks to Prove If
Mrs. Saludes Ever Wed It Was Not to Supposed Husband

New York, Mar. 1.—Mrs. Paulette Saludes, on trial for murdering Oscar Martelliere, a broker, last October, today, weathered hours of grueling cross examination, and then, stepping from the stand, collapsed at her counsel's table, and was carried to an ambulance.

It was half an hour before she regained consciousness. Then she was taken back to the Tombs, to face another day of cross examination tomorrow.

Today Assistant District Attorney Brothers sought to sketch for the jury a picture of Mrs. Saludes as a woman who, if she had been wed at all, had married a deserter from the French army with a name other than Saludes; who had deliberately set out to win Martelliere away from his wife and then had tried to starve trouble between the couple; who, while living with the broker, had gone on motor and boat trips up the Hudson with other men and who finally, on the day of the shooting, went to Martelliere's office with the wish to smother him with her cooling glove.

Mr. Brothers' first set out to disprove the allegation of the defendant that she had received little or nothing in the way of money from Martelliere, whom she charged with cheating her out of her home, and automobile. Brothers produced checks signed by Martelliere for installments on the machine and obtained from the witnesses admission that the mortgage on her house would have been foreclosed if Martelliere had not paid the interest.

Mrs. Saludes, who contends she is a French woman, denied emphatically that she had been born in Albany. She also denied that her husband's name was "Escoupe" and not "Saludes." She refused to answer the questions:

"Did you love your husband dearly?" but later testified they were "very good friends."

PRINCE OF WALES FINE "AMERICAN"

Lady Astor Also Declares No Great Link Between America and England

(By the Associated Press.)

London, Mar. 1.—The Prince of Wales slipped into "Yankee slang" tonight to the pleasure of 200 American former college students at the dinner of the American University union. Speaking of the double benefits of a university education and overseas experience, he said: "Perhaps I have been more lucky than most of you. I think perhaps I can put one over on many of you by asking how many of you have visited your own territories of Honolulu and the Philippines, as I have."

Ambassador Harvey paid tribute to him as "the white prince." Lady Astor said: "The Prince of Wales is one of the best Americans I have ever met. He knows when we talk what we mean. There is no greater link between England and America than his royal highness. In fact, no greater link between all countries."

Tate and Harvard, Princeton and Columbia men gave their college cheers for the prince and Dr. Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams college, led 15 raps for "Nancy."

Wales spoke for almost half an hour, mentioning with a reminiscence while his "three delightful weeks in the United States in 1919."

The Nebraska university jazz band entertained the gathering.

Before dinner the prince shook hands with all the guests.

Among those who occupied the date table with the vice chancellors of London and Oxford universities, were Dr. Garfield, George K. MacLean, former chancellor of Nebraska university, and Lawrence L. Tweedy, of Princeton, chairman.

SCHNEIDER NEVER CARRIED PISTOL

Contractor Transported Pay Roll
Without Protection of Re-
volver, Friend Says

New York, Mar. 1.—District Attorney Glenn turned today to motor-men and conductors for a clue to the identity of the blonde who stepped from the automobile in which Frederick Schneider, wealthy contractor and former army engineer, was found shot through the back of the head, in the Bronx, last Monday.

Mr. Glenn questioned about 13 of the carmen. He evidenced no particular interest in the story told by Motorman William J. Stevenson and conductor John J. Nash, who said that at 5:40 p. m., a few minutes after the shooting, an attractive young woman dressed in a fur coat, a few blocks from Sound View avenue, where the death was found.

Neither man was able to give a clear description of the passenger. They said the windows were tinted, so they could not tell from what direction she had approached the car.

"Tim" Jordan, a truck driver, who had been a close friend of Schneider, also was questioned by Mr. Glenn. He said Schneider never carried a pistol, even when guarding a payroll.

This statement confirmed information received from William Ture, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Anna Glenn, who lived with Schneider and who tonight said he was being held in $25,000 bail as a material witness, after an effort today to obtain his freedom on a writ of habeas corpus had failed.

GERMANY CAN NOT MAINTAIN RUHR PEACE

Van Hinderburg Quoted as Saying
If Necessary Germans Will Fight to End

Washington, Mar. 1.—The German embassy in a formal statement issued today, declared that should the population in the Ruhr "already severely tried" let itself be led to acts of desperation, the German government, owing to the paralysis by the French of the German official apparatus in the Ruhr, will not be in a position to guarantee the maintenance of peace and order in the occupied territory.

An atmosphere of "high tension" has gradually been created throughout the occupied zone, it was said, which "raises the possibility to be feared that this atmosphere may in the near future lead to explosions."

The text of the statement follows:

"Owing to the latest events in the Ruhr territory, especially owing to the more numerous and brutal expulsions, pillages, and ill treatments in the streets, and through the oppressions of entire towns such as Neukirchen, Gelsenkirchen, and Bochum, an atmosphere of high tension has gradually been created in the entire occupied territory which causes the possibility to be feared that this atmosphere may in the near future lead to explosions."

"The German government still maintains a policy of mere passive resistance as hitherto applied, and in this policy is backed by the unanimous support of the officials and the entire population. Should, however, the population, already severely tried, let itself be led to acts of desperation, the German government, owing to the paralysis by the French of the German official apparatus in the Ruhr, will not be in a position to guarantee the maintenance of peace and order in the occupied territory."

"How far the German administration and economic authorities in the occupied territory have been disappointed by the French is shown by the following:

"By orders of the commanders of the 13th French division, German security police of Essen, Urban and rural districts, has been disbanded. Disarming of the German Security police is reported also from other places, so that the Ruhr is gradually deprived of all its organs of control, which hitherto provided for the safety and peace of the population."

"Expulsions of the following persons took place up to the present time:

"The governor of the Rhine province, all presidents of the administrative districts with one exception, the presidents of three main postal districts of three railway districts, of two financial districts, of two courts of appeal, 19 lord mayors, 11 postal directors, nine customs directors, six directors of newspapers, two secretaries of trade unions, 13 directors general of mining companies. Total 552, besides that approximately of 2,000 members of families."

"The German government still maintains a policy of mere passive resistance as hitherto applied, and in this policy is backed by the unanimous support of the officials and the entire population. Should, however, the population, already severely tried, let itself be led to acts of desperation, the German government, owing to the paralysis by the French of the German official apparatus in the Ruhr, will not be in a position to guarantee the maintenance of peace and order in the occupied territory."

"How far the German administration and economic authorities in the occupied territory have been disappointed by the French is shown by the following:

"By orders of the commanders of the 13th French division, German security police of Essen, Urban and rural districts, has been disbanded. Disarming of the German Security police is reported also from other places, so that the Ruhr is gradually deprived of all its organs of control, which hitherto provided for the safety and peace of the population."

"Expulsions of the following persons took place up to the present time:

"The governor of the Rhine province, all presidents of the administrative districts with one exception, the presidents of three main postal districts of three railway districts, of two financial districts, of two courts of appeal, 19 lord mayors, 11 postal directors, nine customs directors, six directors of newspapers, two secretaries of trade unions, 13 directors general of mining companies. Total 552, besides that approximately of 2,000 members of families."

SCHNEIDER NEVER CARRIED PISTOL

Contractor Transported Pay Roll
Without Protection of Re-
volver, Friend Says

New York, Mar. 1.—District Attorney Glenn turned today to motor-men and conductors for a clue to the identity of the blonde who stepped from the automobile in which Frederick Schneider, wealthy contractor and former army engineer, was found shot through the back of the head, in the Bronx, last Monday.

Mr. Glenn questioned about 13 of the carmen. He evidenced no particular interest in the story told by Motorman William J. Stevenson and conductor John J. Nash, who said that at 5:40 p. m., a few minutes after the shooting, an attractive young woman dressed in a fur coat, a few blocks from Sound View avenue, where the death was found.

Neither man was able to give a clear description of the passenger. They said the windows were tinted, so they could not tell from what direction she had approached the car.

"Tim" Jordan, a truck driver, who had been a close friend of Schneider, also was questioned by Mr. Glenn. He said Schneider never carried a pistol, even when guarding a payroll.

This statement confirmed information received from William Ture, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Anna Glenn, who lived with Schneider and who tonight said he was being held in $25,000 bail as a material witness, after an effort today to obtain his freedom on a writ of habeas corpus had failed.

RUTH IS LOSING WEIGHT.

Yet Springs, Ark., Mar. 1.—"Baby" Ruth is shrinking. At his last accounting with the scales, Ruth, plus a turkish bath towel, tipped the beams at 203 pounds, the lowest he has weighed since his pitching days with the Boston Red Sox. Hard work on the golf links and steaming baths are the elements playing havoc with the Ruthian girth.

And it is still gradually undergoing reductions. The slender lines Ruth is acquiring have been the cause of joy among the other Yankee players and Col. T. L. Huston, part owner of the club, who are with Ruth in Hot Springs. Ruth is in splendid condition and is confident of getting an early start in the harvesting of home runs.

"The boys have not had as much preliminary work this year as last, but they seem to be in good condition and ready for field work," Col. Huston said.

VILLA LOSES TITLE IN GENARO BATTLE

Decision Exceptionally Close; Last Third of Battle in Fast and Furious

New York, Mar. 1.—The American flyweight boxing champion title returned to its native shores tonight in the person of Genaro Villa, who took it from Pascual Villa, the Filipino who won it from Johnny Buff in Brooklyn last summer. The decision was of the hairline variety. Newspaper critics at the ringside were divided in their opinion of the justice of the decision. Those who favored it were not enthusiastic and those against were bitter in their denunciation. The crowd was so demonstrative that the police had difficulty in clearing the aisles. It was evident when the men entered the ring that Genaro's friends were in the majority and they booed Villa when he was escorted to his dressing room.

For two-thirds of the way the fight was not of championship calibre and the fans, to whom Villa always showed an untiring aggressiveness, were surprised when he chose a strategy of defense. For 16 rounds the bout bordered on a stultic, but in the last five the mixing was so furious that the spectators were in almost constant uproar.

SINGING SHOULD COME FIRST

Famous English Musician Gives Advice as to Musical Education of the Child.

It is in an article by Sir Dan Godfrey in this sentence: "No child should be given piano lessons until it has sung for some years in order to develop its musical instinct." He points out that perfection in singing baby songs is attained very early in life, and this power brings contact with beauty before drawing is developed or color appreciated. Singing is such a personal art that it lends itself to the development of the individual as nothing else does. The joy which a child gets in reproducing beautiful melodies is like no other experience in life. Piano playing requires so much attention that the little performer often bears very little of the music. The capacity of children for memorizing and performing suitable music is very great, and few, in proportion, have no ear for music. Generally speaking, they are better performers than listeners, except when listening to music they know.

School without music would be a dreary place, for apart from its educational value, good music provides a bond of sympathy between teacher and pupil. In this short article Sir Dan Godfrey has given a lead to parents on the right line. He wants children's ears to be trained, their taste awakened, their listening powers developed, and their love of the beautiful cultivated through musical study. —Montreal Family Herald.

CREDIT GIVEN CASTE SYSTEM

Long Freedom of India From Plague Was Indirectly Caused by Its Prevalence.

Although Europe had suffered from many visitations of plague before and during the Middle Ages, it was not until the Nineteenth century that plague came to India, says J. H. Stephens in Popular Mechanics.

This was due to the prevalence in India of the ancient caste system of the Brahmins, which resulted in separation and segregation. The higher castes lived apart from the lower castes and between each of such segregations open spaces were left, which allowed the circulation of fresh air, and provided for expansion without congestion. Thus, unwittingly, the caste system adopted one of the most effective measures for preventing the spreading of disease.

Under the British administration, caste rules were less strictly observed, and the different castes tended to converge, while congestion increased, resulting in the first appearance of plague in the city of Mangalore, capital of the native state of Mysore, South India. It broke out first in the most congested quarter, where sunlight and air were excluded or polluted.

Plants That Select Homes. One of the chief popular distinctions between vegetable and animal life is that the animals have power of choice and of voluntary motion, while vegetables and plants grow only mechanically. But the microscope seems to show that many vegetable forms can move as easily as can animals. There is a plant called volvox globator, so minute that millions of it could be put in a drinking glass, which is seen to whirl like a top across the field of the microscope. Some plants found in ponds, which are still more minute, move habitually, as with an apparent purpose. Naturalists who have given closer study than others to climbing plants state that these seem to exercise the liberty of choice. Their tendrils, in climbing over pieces of wood with holes, will try one hole after another until they find one that pleases them. One investigator saw a tendril withdraw itself after having pushed itself in a hole for 36 hours.

Three Held for Intoxication. Officer Terrell of the police force staged a little exhibition of his own last evening by securing three subjects for a charge of public intoxication. At about 8:15 last evening Frank Thompson of Oneonta and Fred Fryer were arrested at the D. & H. station charged with public intoxication. They are both employees in the D. & H. shops and are reported to have had a bit of an argument. Horatio Rosecrans was arrested on Broad street and this morning will answer to a charge of intoxication before the city judge.

Fail of the Roman Empire. The fall of the Roman empire was in A. D. 476, when the western empire was finally extinguished by the deposition of Romulus Augustulus as emperor of the West, and the proclaiming of Odoacer as king of Italy. The later Roman or Eastern empire, with its capital at Byzantium (Constantinople), continued to exist for a thousand years longer. Its history may be divided into four periods: (1) That covering the struggle with Persia, ending in favor of the empire about 620 A. D.; (2) the struggle with the Saracens, who were practically crushed in the Eleventh century; (3) the wars with the Seljuk Turks in the Eleventh and Twelfth centuries; and (4) those with the Ottoman Turks in which the Roman power at last went down in 1453, when Mohammed captured Constantinople, and the last emperor, Constantine XI, was killed. —Literary Digest.

No OR in Cat's Fur. Many animals are protected by nature with a sort of skin coat. By shedding off from their skins they are able literally to throw off water.

With the cat, however, it is different, her fur behaving exactly as a downed fur overcoat behaving to any human—that is, the fur clings to the skin and becomes waterlogged.

The only difference is that the waterproof coat, being unable to take off the downed coat, gets "wet through," and, coming off afterwards in a dry clump—our domestic cat compared to Egypt and on the shores of the Mediterranean—is positively noble to "with cold."

PRESIDENT LORE'S NEW BOOK

Head of Delaware and Hudson Station Shows Interesting Comments on the Locomotive and on Labor Controversies.

L. F. Lore, president of the Delaware and Hudson company, has recently published, through D. Appleton and company, a volume entitled "Railroad Freight Transportation," which A. M. Sakolski, at one time statistician for the D. & H. company, has reviewed for Current Business Literature.

From the review made by Mr. Sakolski the following extracts will prove of local interest, referring as they do to what Mr. Lore has to say of the efficiency of the use of the freight cars and to railroad labor:

Mr. Lore, despite his many duties as executive and director of several railroads and as a captain of finance, expended time and energy in a most elaborate and detailed study of the daily movements of the much neglected and abused vehicle, the American freight car. His researches have shown that the freight car is a lizard, that instead of constantly moving to and fro in the service of humanity it loafs in freight yards and at stations, that it is a frequent hospital inmate (i. e., when in the repair shop), and that even when moving, it frequently shirks its burden by passing along empty.

Has society done anything to improve the efficiency of this "hobo" of the rail-road? Mr. Lore finds very little progress toward this end. He says on page 365:

"It is astonishing to find how little the situation has changed in the little period of twenty years. It can hardly be that it presents no possibilities of improvement; rather it would seem a congeries of neglected opportunities, from the point of view of movement the main lines have always appeared to me to be a vast wilderness, the yards a rendezvous of sleeping Rip Van Winkles, while the facilities provided by the public authorities and the traders (i. e., shippers) are as lean as Roderigo, Don Quixote's famous steed."

"The last part of the book treats of the serious question of railroad labor. The author's prominence in the recent railroad shopmen's strike as the railroad executive most outspoken against compromise with the subject peculiarly significant and interesting. Through Mr. Lore's pen may be accused of a strong bias against unionism, his scholarly attitude does not permit him to pervert facts, to present controversies erroneously, to devise historical results. His conclusions regarding possible improvement in the relationship between employer and employee are embodied in the following paragraph:

"Approaching this subject in a fair and impartial manner it would seem that management and the representatives of employees might go far in writing a schedule that would insure the employee the maximum compensation in return for the maximum unrestrained service, injecting into such schedule only matters pertinent and absolutely necessary. Any conference looking toward negotiations of this character should be entered into by management with a clear understanding of its responsibility in dealing fairly and justly with employees, and this spirit is not only necessary on the part of those who may be interested in the negotiations, but should be impressed upon officers and all supervisory forces alike."

New York is Noted for Its Beautiful Women

Harrison, N. Y.—For years I was bothered with my blood and stomach and also constipation. The doctor said I was anemic and if I didn't take care of myself he feared consumption. His medicine failed, so my mother decided to try the remedies she had used for ten or twelve years. She started to give me Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a good blood tonic, and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for my bowels, and these medicines made me feel fine. I was not able to sleep nights and was irritable before, but after taking the "Discovery" I could sleep well and felt good. I thought my case was hopeless and I was cured, so you may be, too. Why suffer?—Mrs. H. Doen, East White Plains.

The village of Deposit had 30 inches of snow on the ground last week and on Monday six inches more brought the total up to three feet.

The village of Deposit will vote next Tuesday on six propositions which are to be submitted at the local election. Among them are: To appropriate $2,500 per annum for street lighting; $12,000 for macadamizing Wheeler street; $12,500 for macadam on Dean street; and $1,000 toward the pay of a community nurse. Other propositions are to sell the Neptune Hose building for not less than $2,500 and to abolish the poll tax in the village.

A fire in the Beekel barber shop in Deposit last week Wednesday did about $1,500 damage to his stock and furnishings and $1,000 to the building, with only $200 insurance on building and $700 on contents of shop.

The water front in the kitchen range of E. D. Sampson of Hancock blew up last Sunday, wrecking stove, kitchen and the adjoining dining room. A son of Mr. Sampson was struck on the arm by one of the pieces of metal, injuring him, but not seriously.

William E. (Pussfoot) Johnson will be in Cooperstown Wednesday evening, March 14, at the Presbyterian church. He will talk on "The Orient Moving Toward Prohibition." Undoubtedly there will be large attendance from all parts of the county.

The house of John Kerns, a farmer, living about four and a half miles west of New Berlin, was burned with all its contents on Sunday night. Otto Kerns, a son, was awakened by the smell of smoke and roused his parents and little sister. They were obliged to jump from an upper window into a snow bank, and remained, scantily clad, in the barn until daybreak. All had their feet frostbitten and are in serious condition from exposure to weather. 15 degrees below zero.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob VanBuren of Jefferson celebrated their golden wedding on Tuesday of this week. For 37 years they have occupied their present home just east of Jefferson village. Their four children and their descendants were all present at the reunion.

The board of education of the Worcester school has unanimously voted to offer a contract for next year to every present teacher in the village.

The city of Norwich has ordered the purchase of a life net costing $150, to be used in connection with the work of the fire department.

UNHEALTHY CONDITIONS IN STATE HIGHWAY AFFAIRS

Albany, Mar. 1.—Over anxiety of a large mileage of roads without proper regard being given to the progress of work in the field has forced the state highway department to face conditions "neither normal nor healthy."

Frederick Stuart Greene, state highway commissioner, informed Governor Smith yesterday. There are in force 202 unfinished contracts for the construction and reconstruction of 551.2 miles of roads, at a total contract price of $27,594,427, of which amount less than 35 per cent or $9,629,753 has been paid contractors to date. Commissioner Greene said, "Unfinished roads still require 623.57 miles of pavement and contracts for new construction call for 527 miles of pavement to be built.

Of the 497 miles of roads awarded in 1922, less than 105 miles has been paved and only 13.77 miles of these 1922 contracts have been accepted as actually completed. Highways, Mr. Greene said, adding that there are 85 miles of pavement still to be built on contracts carried over from 1921.

MRS. HUCK WILL CONTEST LEGAL DISQUALIFICATION

Chicago, Mar. 1.—Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck, Illinois congresswoman-at-large, yesterday said that on her return to Washington she would ask congressional investigation of the primaries Tuesday when Morton D. Hull defeated her for the Republican nomination to succeed the late Representative James R. "Ann" of the second Illinois district.

Mrs. Huck declared she was convinced that Mr. Hull spent "large sums of money, far more than the $5,000 limitation for congressmen," but that she was not convinced, however, that he had defeated her by the 5,000 votes, shown by the Hull returns, and as claimed by the Hull forces.

"This looks like another Newberry race," said Mrs. Huck.

PROMOTIONS ON "PENNSY."

Philadelphia, Feb. 28.—H. H. McCarthy, formerly gen. A. manager of the central region of the Pennsylvania railroad with headquarters at Pittsburgh, today was appointed assistant to the vice-president in charge of that region. H. C. Clement, general superintendent of the Lake division, succeeds Mr. McCarthy as general manager.

BIRDS AND COWS.

New York, Mar. 1.—Until yesterday the Bronx zoo had almost every kind of animal on exhibit but a cow. Today, however, the Dairyman's league decided that many New York children had never seen the source of their milk so they presented Dairyville, a Holstein, to the local manager.

Pay Development Plans.

W. H. Wellman of Davenport has sold his valuable farm to Charles Becker and Joseph Marone, both of New York city. Possession was given on March 1. The sale was made through the State Real estate agency of this city.

WITH GOOD JUDGMENT.

President Harding, it is generally conceded, has made some very good recent appointments, among them being that of Congressman Tower of Iowa to be governor of Porto Rico. This position has for some years been unsatisfactorily filled, at least so far as the islanders themselves are concerned, by E. Mont Riley, and it is understood that the latter, having now the truthful excuse of ill health for getting out of a position in which he never exactly fitted, is as glad to go as the people whom he governed are to have him depart. During the winter of their discontent delegates from Porto Rico were frequently in contact with Chairman Tower of the Insular committee, and are said to have formed a high opinion of his judgment, tact and courtesy, the two latter being of particular moment in dealing with those as difficult in many ways as are those descended from the blood of Castile. Now that the acceptance of Congressman Tower is assured, it seems that all differences between Washington and the islanders will be approached in a spirit of good will.

Important as is the appointment of Brigadier General F. T. Hines, retired, as director of the Veterans' bureau, the position is one of the most difficult in the government to administer successfully, and the President shows good judgment in taking the appointment out of politics, at same time entrusting it to a man, who by life-long training, is well fitted to administer it sympathetically and fairly.

SONGSTERS FROM GERMANY

One of the importations from Germany which stopped altogether during the days of the war and which is really and generally being welcomed back again is that of those delightful songsters, the canaries from the Harz mountains. During the last fiscal year there were 154,447 of them brought in under special permit, which is more than any other year since the beginning of the World War shut off these importations entirely. As high as 17,000 of these birds have been admitted at New York custom house in a single day, and a single shipment of 3,000 birds is not uncommon.

The dearth of Harz mountain canaries has been felt among bird lovers for many years, and for the few that arrived the high price made cost prohibitive save to those with well-filled purses. That now the birds are becoming abundant and relatively cheaper will be gratifying to everybody.

The amended immigration law aims to check the influx of undesirable citizens. There are many animated creatures from the Rhine-land who "never would be missed." One of these is not the canary, who will be welcomed alike for his song and because he never can become such a nuisance, save perhaps to an occasional super-sensitive neighbor, as is that other feathered biped, the English sparrow.

Newspaper Suspensions.

Announcement of the suspension of two Pittsburgh newspapers, the Dispatch and the Leader, the former more than three-quarters of a century old, is of public interest because newspapers of such prominence are more than local institutions. Suspension is due to the greatly increased cost of publishing newspapers nowadays and to increasing intensity of competition in the field. It is now a question of the survival of the fittest. In the past seven or eight years more newspapers have gone out of business than in any other period of the country's history, in the big cities as well as in the smaller cities and towns. During the war everything that enters into the cost of publishing a newspaper went skyrocketing, the cost of paper, the cost of labor, the cost of distribution, the cost of machinery, and in some respects costs are higher now than they were at the maximum of war inflation. If this were the only burden it would be hard enough. But the competition in the newspaper field has necessitated larger expenditures in the gathering of news from all quarters of the world. Today the newspaper in an important city spends more for telegraph tolls on foreign dispatches, not counting the pay of the foreign newsgatherers, than the average newspaper paid for its entire news department not many years ago.

Competition has made the average newspaper about the cheapest commodity that the "consumer" purchases in comparison with the cost of output. It is frequently the case that the subscription price paid does not equal the cost of the white paper, not counting the great outlay in securing and printing the news. Yet the constant aim of the enterprising newspaper is to make it better and better.—[Carbondale Leader.]

CAR LEADERS CONTINUE HIGH.

Washington, Mar. 1.—Freight traffic on railroads, which has been running far above normal records since Jan. 1, is continuing to maintain the record-breaking volume, on the basis of latest reports compiled by the Interstate Commerce Commission. During the week ending Feb. 17, a total of 511,100 cars were loaded with revenue freight, or 64,000 cars more than were loaded in the same week last year, and 125,771 cars more than during the same week in 1921.

Los Angeles, Mar. 1.—James J. Gardner, former heavyweight boxing champion of the world, returning from the city, filed a voluntary petition for bankruptcy in the United States district court here.

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY

Plucking the Rabbit.

What was it forced the country to do? Into its pockets to pull approximately $1,000,000,000 so that the railroads of the country might be kept running? Government control and mismanagement. What was it that provided service which made traveling a gamble? What was responsible for a general deterioration of the railroad equipment which after six years has not been wholly repaired? Government control and mismanagement. What was it that kept passenger rates and freight rates sky high and created conditions that have for the most part kept them there until now? Government control and mismanagement.—[Detroit Press.]

Backing Up France.

France should accept no mediation from any quarter whatever, and we cannot believe that the French government have the smallest intention of doing so. They have only to stand fast in order to win. Their task is an easy one, their position in the Ruhr and in the Rhineland is unassailable and their legal and moral rights to follow the stern course they have adopted are beyond dispute. France now possesses the only powerful first-class army in Europe, and she has the best generals. She can hold on for an indefinite period and none can say her nay in this grave matter.—[London Daily Mail.]

Fears About Education.

A nation with an estimated income of $99,000,000,000 is not going to go bankrupt because it spends $1,000,000,000 on education. It can afford to pay as much for its children as is earned by the sale of tobacco. The fears of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching are not imprudent, therefore, as to the gross cost of education.—[New York World.]

For Detective Writers.

It is not necessary for writers of detective stories to invent the skeletons of their stories. It does require a good deal of ability—more than some of them have—to clothe the skeleton crime with enough literary flesh in the shape of incidents, cross-plots and personal characterization to make about 300 pages printed with large type material go as far as possible. But the skeleton can be picked up very few days in the newspaper, and we refer not simply to the bare fact of crime, which occurs every day, but to crime of some complication or obscurity, the explanation of which appears to be baffling.—[Philadelphia Review.]

The Mystery Grow.

With few Republicans in the senate supporters of the President's sudden desire to commit America to the Court of International Justice, a creature of the League of Nations, and with the Democratic side of the chamber gleefully enthusiastic, the mystery grows concerning the President's sudden conversion to the super-judiciary.—[New York Herald.]

In Justice to Drug Trade.

Association requests us not to say drugs any more, when we mean narcotics, since that careless practice may hurt business, and we hasten to set matters right by stating in this public manner that, in our fearless denunciation of the drug habit, we have not had in mind for one moment such drugs as cocaine, opium, salicylate, castor oil and chocolate ice cream soda or their unfortunate addicts.—[Ohio State Journal.]

A Shorter and Uglier Word.

It's queer that with our tendency to short-cuts we still use the full form flibuster when buster would do just as well.—[Manchester Union.]

BRIEF MONTH OF FEBRUARY

Brings Many Days of Cold and Crippling Snowfalls.

According to the figures of the Oneonta station of the National Weather bureau, the mean maximum temperature for the month of February was 27.1 degrees and the mean minimum 8.22 degrees, making the average or mean for the month 15.5 degrees. Tuesday, the 27th, was warmest, attaining to the 42 degree mark, and Saturday, the 24th, was coldest, going to 12 degrees below. The snowfall for the month was 17.5 inches, and the amount on the ground according to measurements taken on Monday last was 14 inches. The total precipitation for the month was 1.72 inches, and the greatest amount was .47 of an inch on the 12th.

As usual the prevailing winds were westerly, that, or northwest or southwest being the record for 23 of the 28 days. There were also six clear, five partly clear and 17 cloudy days.

The snowfall bulletin issued from the Oneonta office on Monday showed 27 inches at Richfield Springs, 22 at Haverhill, 25 at Port Jervis, and 19 at Schenectady, Edmeston and New Berlin.

BOARD GRANTS TIME AND HALF

Freight Handlers and Laborers Are Mainly Affected by Rule, Which Provides Increase

Chicago, Mar. 1.—The eight-hour day with time and one-half for overtime after the eighth hour was granted another class of railroad employees yesterday by the United States Railroad Labor board in its decision on the dispute between the Brotherhood of Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees and a number of carriers.

The rule providing for one day off each week also was granted to this class of employees, both provisions of the decision being effective immediately. It was an increase of two cents an hour in the rate of pay of freight employees and common labor employed about stations.

Approximately 55,000 employees are affected to the extent of about $2,000,000 annually by the increase in pay granted.

Involved in the new rules of overtime and Sunday work are about 330,000 employees.

FREE STATES CAPTURE MANY DESIRED PERSONS

London, Mar. 1.—Irregulars today strongly attacked Clonmel from the hillside with rifle and machine guns, but Free State forces, using an 18-pounder, dispersed the attacking party after a half hour's battle, says a dispatch to the Central News from Dublin.

Government troops from Ballina took 50 prisoners, including many men for whom the Free State authorities had been searching. Last night eight men were caught in the act of blowing up a bridge and eight others were arrested today with guns and ammunition in their possession. They were in bed when apprehended.
